

A course designed to teach doctors about the importance of Professional and Ethical Responsibilities using Virtual Reality technology

Matthew Whallett, Sindoor Jayaprakash, Alexander Crichton, Joshua Whittaker, RGUC Digital Media Team, Anindya Dixit, Usman Ahmed

Curriculum designed with learning objectives from the General Medical Council's 'Outcomes for Graduates':

- Professional development
- Time management
- Reflection
- Duty of candour
- Honesty
- Raising concerns
- Integrity
- Person-centred care
- Recognising personal limits
- Maintaining dignity
- Meeting the fundamental needs of the patients
- Risks posed to patients by doctor's health
- Impact of personal values, beliefs and biases
- Applying ethical reasoning to new scenarios
- Decision making, capacity and informed consent

4 virtual reality scenarios

MET Call

Clinical Error

Aggressive Patient

Stroke

Patient perspective

Doctor perspective

Learn and consolidate skills such as:

- Structured reflection
- Group discussion
- Empathy
- Constructive debate

